These film prices are without stitched handles, which would be required under best practices. The combination of a 10 mil & a stitched handles requirements would make those bags even more expensive. Retailers would be very unlikely to opt for that bag and would instead opt for a durable reusable bag type below.

mil = milli-inches, standard measurement for plastic film in the U.S.
GSM = grams per square meter, standard measurement for non-film materials
D = Denier, yarn counts
